SHAKSPEARE HOTEL,

Late Harmony Hall, corner of William and Duane streets.

This new and spacious establishment is now open, under the direction of the subscriber. The bed rooms are airy and spacious, and can be taken with or without board.—A spacious Refectory has been fitted up in the basement, where the best of Liquors, and every delicacy the market affords, will be provided. There is a spacious Ball Room in the second story, which can be let to Balls and Cotillion Parties.—Dinners for Parties, (whether large or small in number) provided. Court Martials, Referees, &c. &c. accommodated with rooms at short notice. There is also a large room admirably adapted for a Drill Room. The subscriber trusts that his endeavors to keep a public house, unsurpassed in comfort, luxury, and reasonableness of charges, by any in the city, will secure him ample encouragement. AMOS S. ALLEN.

New York, Oct 17, 1836. tf

RAILWAY HOUSE, MILTON, MASS.

The subscriber respectfully informs the public that he has taken a lease of this extensive house, and newly refitted and furnished it throughout with every article necessary for the accommodation and comfort of travellers, convivial parties and boarders.

A beautiful grove with pleasant walks, a garden, swing, &c. are connected with this establishment, and its proximity to the city renders it an inviting place of resort for those who may desire to spend a short time away from the confusion and sultry air of a crowded place of business.

The bowling alleys have been newly relaid, and good attendants provided.

The larder will be stored with the best of provisions, and such delicacies as the seasons afford. The bar will also be kept supplied with choice wines and liquors. Good stabling for horses.

The Dorchester and Milton line of stages leave for Boston every morning and noon, and return at noon and evening.

jy25 eptf SILAS HALL.

WARREN HOUSE,

At the junction of Merrimack and Friend Streets.

This establishment having now gone through extensive and thorough repairs and additions, will compare with any other public house of its size. It has been furnished from top to bottom with new furniture, bedding, carpeting &c., and is now open for the accommodation of travellers.

It is the intention to conduct the House after the mode of the most approved public houses—and every effort will be made personally, and by well tried assistants, to please his former customers and those who may visit the Warren House for the first time.

Extensive stables, with pure water, is attached to the establishment. AZARIAH PROCTOR.

MASSASOIT HOUSE,

WALTHAM, Ms.

The subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that this large and elegant establishment, 8½ miles from the city, is now open for the reception of company, and every effort will be made to give entire satisfaction to individuals and parties of pleasure, at immediate notice.

FARM FOR SALE CHEAP.

For sale in Pittston, State of Maine, an excellent farm containing about 50 acres of mowing and tillage, and 60 acres of young growth of wood. The tillage land is under good cultivation, and the farm will produce from 30 to 40 tons of hay per annum, which can be sent to market at a small expense, it being within 2 miles of a navigation on Kennebec river. The buildings on the premises consist of 2 good barns and a convenient dwelling house, and will be sold a great bargain if applied for immediately, as the owner is obliged to relinquish the business on account of ill health.

N. B. Said farm has produced about $500 worth of hay per annum for two years past, would be sold for cash for $1200, affording an excellent opportunity for any person who wishes to invest his money in a farm to good advantage. Apply to JOHN GRIGGS, 729 Washington st, or ADIN HALL.

POETRY.

TO A VIOLET,

WHICH APPEARED IN AUTUMN.

And did'st thou think that it was Spring,
And past thy wintry hour,
That thy blue eye, slow opening,
Peeped through this leafy bower?

Thou had'st a dream of April skies,
Of loving May-winds sighing;
And blissfully unclosed thine eyes
To gaze upon—the dying!

Thy sisters round thee sadly droop,
Chilled by rude Autumn's blast—
Bowed down is many a lovely group,
As o'er them it hath past.

Thus Sleep doth bring some vision bright
The mourner's heart to cheer;
But ah! it fades in morning's light,
And all around is drear.

ATTEMPTS AT FINE WRITING.

A late Post contained some remarks upon the report of a committee upon the Fire Department, of which the Mayor was chairman. I have not read that report, and therefore have no observations to make respecting it; but the paragraph to which I allude caused me to make two reflections. The first is, that "self-made men," as they are called,—that is, men of energy, enterprise, and good understanding, who, without the advantages of education and family patronage, rise to considerable eminence in the world, should never attempt fine writting,—should avoid any efforts at written eloquence, and especially that which partakes of the pathetic. Let them avoid writing at all except in cases of absolute necessity; and then let them come to the point, express themselves in the fewest and most simple words, and in the manner of correct conversation, rather than attempt any thing above it. In reaching after an ambitious style, they almost invariably fail, and exhibit a silly affectation, which is certain of being rewarded with ridicule instead of admiration. It is well if they do not manifest a gross ignorance of the meaning of words, as well as violate the laws of rhetoric.

If an uneducated man has acquired the reputation of being able to write, let him enjoy that reputation without wishing to give any public proofs of it. It is frequently unfounded, and the first exhibition commonly dispels the illusion. It will be recollected that a former Mayor, when held up as a candidate, was recommended by a personal and political friend of the editorial fraternity, as an able writer, and his reports were referred to for the proof, as existing in the files of the Senate. This was very well, so far. But, soon after his election, it unfortunately happened—unfortunately for the new Mayor as well as for the family and friends of the city treasurer—that this officer was suddenly called from the affairs of this world. The Mayor thought it a fine opportunity to show his literary talents, and penned a letter of condolence upon the occasion. This letter his friends were so injudicious as to publish, and the literary fame of the writer was lost forever. The pathetic appeal operated by the rule of contrary;—it produced more smiles than tears.

My second reflection is, that all public documents, all papers of business, whether written by educated or uneducated men, should be composed in a plain, simple style, neat and forcible, rather than elegant, and so as to be easily understood by every reader. All attempts at oratory are here out of place. No figures of rhetoric should be admitted. No uncommon words or expressions, no show of learning, no long periods or lofty phrases, should find a place in a paper of business, whether it be a political paper, a diplomatic document, or the professional letter or composition of a lawyer or merchant. Let the language be correct and pure; let the grammar be unexceptionable, and the words and expressions be good English; but let all be neat and simple, brief and clear, plain and unpretending.

This last reflection, is, indeed, true rhetoric. It is the substance of what the most able rhetoricians have said. When a man of business writes in a plain, simple style, he writes, in fact, rhetorically. It is the rhetoric of business. Instructions of this nature, if I recollect correctly, may be found in Blair's well-known Lectures on Rhetoric. I may add, as appropos to the occasion, that nearly the whole of the diplomatic and official documents of the present administration are remarkable for the propriety and ability with which they are written. Many of them are masterpieces in their kind.

NOMINATION OF JUDGES.

There is no act of the administration party in this State, by which the whigs profess to be more scandalized, than the nomination of Judge Morton, a Judge of the Supreme Judicial Court, as the candidate for Governor; and no language seems strong enough to express their holy horror at the Judge's conduct in accepting the nomination. You have already shown, by citing several instances of similar nominations by that party, the shallowness and falsity of their pretended scruples. But let me ask, by whom was the first example set of such nominations—by what party made—and by what Judge accepted? I will furnish the answer. The party was the High Federal Party in the State of New York, and the Judge was—John Jay, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. In the year 1792, I think, in a time of great political excitement, that party nominated him for the office of Governor of New York, and he was the unsuccessful candidate.

Our present government had then been just organized, the Supreme Court of the United States was then in its infancy, and unsupported by the influence of a long and well established reputation, by the fame of past Judges, or the partiality of an united and attached Bar, had yet to acquire the confidence and respect of the wide spread community over which its jurisdiction extended. It may well be supposed that the Judges of that Court, under such circumstances, would be exceedingly guarded and scrupulous in their conduct—and no man was ever more sensitive to the duties and proprieties of station than Chief Justice Jay; and having previously presided on the Supreme Bench in New York, he was no stranger to those of the office he then held. And, moreover, as the presiding Judge of the Court, he must have felt especially charged with the care of the reputation and interests of the Court. And yet, notwithstanding all these considerations, he allowed himself to be held up, at a period of high party excitement, as a candidate for the office of Governor. And can it be, then, that the whigs of our day are more nice in their sense of propriety, and more scrupulous in their conduct, than was Chief Justice Jay? P.

Martin Van Buren.—It is curious to observe the various and opposite arguments which are used against the election of Mr Van Buren in different parts of the United States. His enemies say to the southern slave-holders—"How can you conscientiously vote for a man who is an abolitionist in principle, and who will favor your greatest foes at the north, who are endeavoring to stir up insurrections among your slaves, and rob you of your property?" On the other hand, they say to the abolitionists—"How can you conscientiously vote for a man who has plainly declared himself a partizan of the southern slave-holders, and who will do all in his power to bind the chains of slavery more closely around the necks of your colored brethren?" They tell the people at the north that Mr Van Buren, though a northerner by birth, will be almost exclusively the friend of the southern interest after his election; and they tell the people at the south that Mr Van Buren will do according to the bidding of a powerful party in the State of New York, who will oppose all the favorite measures of the south. Thus, in every section of the country, his enemies have represented him as being the exclusive friend of each particular sectional interest that is opposed to their own. And what will be the consequence of this style of misrepresentation? Nothing more than that the various contradictory accounts of Mr Van Buren's principles will serve to defeat the designs of his enemies; and the people will arrive at the correct conclusion that their candidate is the friend of the general interest of the whole country, but will favor the exclusive interest of no particular section.

The Boston Mercantile Journal gives as a reason for the loss of the entire crop of corn in New Hampshire, that Isaac Hill is Governor of that State. His prototype, Governor Plumer, was Chief Magistrate in 1816, when there was not corn enough raised to bake a Johnny-cake. —N. Y. Gazette.

It would seem that the God of the weather was of the opposition in New Hampshire—but he must certainly be equally opposed to the whig administration in Massachusetts, as we have had a most miserable crop of corn in this State, during the first season of Gov. Everett's election, and vast quantities of pumpkins were frozen about the time he issued his proclamation for thanksgiving!

"Peter Parley," again.—The Boston Morning Post justly cautions the voters of Norfolk County against the "would-be politician," and also parents against the introduction of "Peter Parley" to their children. The "patchwork" author is well known in Connecticut, particularly in this city. It was here that he put forth the first lessons of Peter Parley for children—the "coffin hand bills." While in this city he was particularly desirous that children should be nourished with the milk of federalism, and lest they should be inattentive, or the nurse remiss, and thus a quantum of the delectable be wasted upon their bills, he resolved upon feeding them with a spoon in the form of a coffin hand bill—but the metal was too poisonous in its effects upon the mouth, to be withstood even by "the legitimates," and was therefore thrown aside. He now uses "Parley," which may be plated; we would advise parents, democrats especially, to examine thoroughly his manufactures before they buy them into their families.—Hartford Times.

The Climax of Crime.—The New York Sun contains an account of a most extraordinary occurrence which has lately happened in the State of Kentucky, and which has produced great excitement throughout that part of the country. A youth about 17 or 18 years of age, named Harvey, remarkable for his personal beauty, and a certain effeminacy in his appearance and manners, dressed himself in female apparel, and commenced a tour through the State as a music mistress. His hair is fair and long, and curls in remarkable beauty down his neck. It is said that he would go to the most wealthy and respectable family in the neighborhood, and there get employment as a music teacher, being a first rate performer on the piano. After ingratiating himself into the favor of the family, generally, he would select the handsomest of the young ladies, if there were more than one, and manage to room with her. Passing several nights harmlessly, so as to lull suspicion completely, his diabolical scheme was then put into operation. He would first administer some powerful soporific, and during the profound slumber of his victim accomplish his purpose. His engagements as a teacher were always short, so that he could escape quietly to a new scene, before any consequences would be likely to appear, if at all. Fortunately, only two young ladies have thus far been discovered to be irretrievably ruined, among all those whose virtue he has thus outraged. Two of them are known to be enciente, and one of these only 15 years of age—a beautiful creature, said to be the only child of one of the most respectable farmers in the State. Such was the excitement that prevailed, that the magistrate was obliged to put him in prison to protect him from the mob. It is yet uncertain who he is, but he is supposed, from his education, to be of a respectable family.

The Boston Book is out, and in an equisitely beautiful dress. Nor is the mental portion inferior to the corporeal. Mr Thatcher has sought assiduously, weighed carefully, rejected firmly, and, on the whole, catered successfully. The book is varied, lively and pleasing, and a very fair average representative of Boston taste and talent. Mr T. says in his preface, that "this second volume is presented, like the first, as a compilation of specimens—or, essentially, a specimen in the aggregate—of the modern literature of the Metropolis of the North." And that, "while it does not assume to be complete, nor to deprecate reasonable strictures in any respect, it has preserved a goodly portion of the general spirit—the liberal, republican, national and Christian spirit—which breathed in its pages before; and that it does something like justice in this respect, to the city, as emphatically a Bostonian Book." A hasty examination of the work bears out the editor, and we doubt not the buying public will corroborate our opinion. We regret to learn that this is the last effort which Mr Thatcher will be able to make for some time to come, in behalf of the literature of our city. He leaves in a few days for Europe, and carries with him the respect and good wishes of the community generally, and the warm prayers of many attached friends.

Novel Speculation.—The New York Sun states that a pretty young woman, named Catharine Slocum, living in Houston Street, a few days since appeared at the office of the Commissioners of the Alms House, with an infant about five months old, and applied for a legal process against a very deserving young man, in the printing office of the Harpers, whom she swore was the father of the infant, hoping that he should be compelled to bear the expense of the child's maintenance. On Saturday, agreeably to appointment, the case was tried by the public magistrate. The case, after Catharine had stated her testimony, looked very promising for herself, and very dubious for the young printer, when lo! by a single witness and documents which he produced, he proved that the wily Catharine was receiving a sufficient stipend from a young man in Brooklyn, and also a weekly allowance of three dollars from another individual whom she had originally charged with the paternity of her child, and who voluntarily settled upon her $150 a year, and paid it regularly. The magistrates, much amused and surprised, dismissed her and her complaint after bestowing upon her a reprimand.

Important Dispatches.—The Spanish correspondence, as furnished by a foreign journal, presents some amusing specimens of the "important," in various dispatches that have been addressed by various Carlist Generals to the "Minister of War." We quote verbatim et literatim:

New Era in Literature and the Fine Arts.—It is said that the editors of the New York Mirror, for literary contributions, engravings, and music, pay the large sum of fifteen thousand dollars annually! A few years ago no American periodical could afford such an expense, and nothing but a most extensive circulation would warrant it now.

Remarkable instance of moral Courage in the Female Character.—On Friday last, Mrs. Abigail B. Whitney of Boston, in company with a gentleman and lady of Brooklyn, took the steamboat from Whitehall to Staten Island, and arrived there at 4, P. M. Supposing the boat would remain for some time and return, they rambled about the island. On reaching the hotel near the river, they were astonished to hear there would be no steamboat that night. They immediately embarked on board a frail skiff and rowed over to New York, where they arrived about 8 o'clock. On their course, the skiff struck a plank floating in the river, but fortunately no injury resulted from the concussion. The above case is one of great singularity, and fully proves that the resolutions of the weaker sex are more energetic than those of our own sex.—N. Y. Gaz.

Munificent Bequest.—The late John Lowell, Jr. Esq., of this city, who died a few months ago near Bombay, left property to the amount of more than half a million dollars. We learn that he has bequeathed one half of his property, to trustees, to be appropriated to found an Institution in this city, for the purpose of the delivery of lectures on scientific subjects. With the exception of one or two private legacies, we also learn that he has left the other half of his large fortune to be equally divided between a brother, a brother-in-law, and a sister-in-law.—Gazette.

The Elections.—Sufficient returns have not been received from Ohio to enable us to judge of the result. The whigs claim larger majorities than they have obtained in many counties—and some of the counties which they count as being on their side, have given a majority for the democratic ticket. Hamilton County—Harrison's residence—has given a Van Buren majority. In a day or two we shall be able to publish sufficient returns to render the issue certain.

There is no class of Christians in the country more deserving of respect than the Methodists. They are pure of themselves, and harbor no thoughts contrary to the general welfare. The slur thus cast, therefore, upon this respectable portion of the community, disgraces, if possible, the source from whence it emanated.

Mr Gillday was the first in the house who discovered the fire; but when he was awoke by the smoke, the flames had already made such progress through the gable end of the house from the stable adjoining it and where the fire commenced, that he had barely time to escape with his wife and children, without even so much as securing his watch, which hung by his bed-side. Rooney slept in another room, and, though Mr G. called to alarm him, he either did not hear, or was unable to make good his escape.

U. STATES CIRCUIT COURT.—Criminal Trials.—While the brig Billow lay at the port of Rochelle, the colored cook, Charles Griffin, stole the mate's cash and clothes, and deserted. He was arrested the next day in a house of ill-fame, having in the meantime equipped himself "in a new suit of second hand black clothes," as the witness remarked. He was brought in a prisoner, indicted and convicted. Sentenced to pay $100 to Aiken, the mate, being double the amount he stole, and "to be publicly whipped ten stripes." This sentence is according to the letter of the law, but contrary to the spirit of American jurisprudence, and therefore Judge Story recommended, after passing sentence, that a representation should be forwarded to the President for a remission of the sentence. Griffin has already suffered five months imprisonment.

Assaults.—The cook—colored—of the brig Advocate, Richard J. Hill, was indicted for assaulting with an axe, Christian Frederick, the mate—also colored—in the harbor of St. Croix. Armed with an axe, Hill chased the mate up on deck, and forced him to jump overboard; and in the language of the Irish song he came near ——committing suicide

To save himself from slaughter,

Hill conducted his own defence with great ability, and drove the witnesses against him into an acknowledgment that the mate wanted him to steal liquor from a cask, and upon his refusing to commit the theft, began to abuse him. Taking into consideration the spirituous beginning of the quarrel, as well as the watery end of it, the jory returned a verdict of not guilty.

Hill was not so fortunate upon a second indictment for stabbing a Portuguese shipmate named Antoine. After the assault on the mate, Antoine undertook to expostulate with Hill for his violence. Hill replied that "the mate was a rascal, and deserved to be killed." Antoine could not agree to this, and Hill cut the argument short by stabbing him in the arm. Proof positive;—Verdict—Guilty.—Sentence, $10.00 fine, and one month's imprisonment, having already suffered 4 months confinement.

There are three indictments for mutinies to be tried yet. The Grand Jury—Joseph H. Buckingham, foreman—were dismissed, with an intimation, by His Honor Judge Story, that they would be called together again, if any other prisoners should be brought in during the term.

POLICE COURT.—Mackerel Catching in a Handcart.—On Wednesday, Charles Stewart was brought up charged with stealing three half-barrels of mackerel, from Long wharf, and the property of Messrs Tucker & Sons. They were missed on Monday morning, and Reid was employed to smell them out at the grocery stores. He discovered them at Mr Maxwell's, in Broad street, who paid $15.00 for them. Stewart and a companion brought them in a handcart, representing themselves to be captain and mate of a schooner, who had taken the fish by way of barter, and were in a hurry to turn them into cash and sail. Stewart, in giving an account of himself, said he had been engaged in the honorable avocation of caulking mud-scows, at South Boston. He of course laid the burden of his iniquity on his absent partner, and called Heaven to witness, that he was only hired by him to drag the fish to a place of sale. He was remanded to South Boston—not to caulk scows—but to crack stones for three months.

Yesterday old Reid laid hold of the self-styled mate, whose real name is William Brown. He made exactly the same defence as Stewart, word for word, and to precisely the same purpose, and was subjected to the same punishment.

John Jewell is a jewel of a fellow. Yesterday forenoon he came to Court to complain against his wife and daughter, whose characters he pourtrayed in glowing colors; but unfortunately for his suit, his own character was pictured forth in his countenance in colors far more radiant. He was politely told to go about his business, as the atmosphere of the Court was accounted very uncongenial to persons of his temperament. He walked off "muttering curses through his teeth." In the afternoon he was brought in a prisoner, and it was proved that for many years he had lived on his wife's labor, besides robbing her, and attempting to throw her out of the window on Wednesday. He tried hard to make His Honor believe that he was the victim of a black conspiracy on the part of the witnesses, who were aiming to cheat him out of his property. His Honor replied to his defence in the following terse speech:—"Be silent, sir;—I told you this morning how this complaint of yours against your wife would turn out. It appears that you have been a drunkard and an idler for five years—a curse to your family and a nuisance to society. I shall send you to the House of Correction for three months, and the moment you are released, see that you immediately take ship for the State of Maine." "What!" exclaimed Jewell; "send a poor lame man like me to the House of Correction! Why don't you take and kill me, and be done with it?"

John Farro was entertained at the house of some ladies of dark color, and darker characters, till he had spent his last cent. Then his room was better than his company, and he was quite unceremoniously ejected from the premises. He was just blue enough to be sensitive and indignant, and showed proper resentment at their ungrateful perfidy, by seizing an iron bar in the yard, and smashing the window in. Fined $3.00, and no costs.

When the officers approached Jerry to arrest him, he fought for liberty with desperation. He was quite a handful for five of them, but when he was brought into Court, like an exhausted traveller, he flung himself on the settee and enjoyed a comfortable and refreshing nap, while the witnesses unfolded his manifold transgressions in the liquorary line. Six months.

The witnesses swore that Ann Gordon had not seen a sober minute for two months. She replied—"When I was first brought in I was afraid you would swear to something within the bounds of reason, which the Judge might believe. His Honor's common sense ought to tell him better than to believe that for surely I could not live if I was all the time in liquor." His Honor did not yield to Ann's reasoning—he had known folks to live for years on liquor—in fact some soakers didn't appear to have the faculty of dying at all, except that they became dead to a sense of decency. "We must, therefore, say two months," said he. "O, it's a cruel thing, I think," rejoined Ann.

Obadiah Gordon, again—poor old man! How Constables Cooledge and Pierce keep continually girding at him!! Last evening they had him up again—only for just, stealing a set of wagon harness from Mr Sanger, of Sherburne Two States and three Counties now claim priority of right to convict him. He has been through the mill so often, that an order of commitment to jail strikes his venerable ear as kindly as does the call to retire to bed to the honest and hard-working laborer.

JUSTICES' COURT.—Undue Chastisement of a Boy at Sea.—A lad named Charles Davis recovered $7.00 damages, and costs, of Henry Prior, mate of the Angola, for an assault. In one instance, Prior falsely accused Davis of losing a gimlet, which was found below. Davis denied the charge, and in so doing irritated Prior, who inflicted a severe flogging on him with a rope's end. On another occasion, Davis was on deck, exhibiting to the hands some marks on his body inflicted by the captain, and for this harmless action, Prior knocked him down with his fist and kicked him. Davis also recovered recently, in the District Court, $20.00, and costs, of the Captain of the Angola, Hosea Windsor, for the very assault, the marks of which he exhibited to his shipmates, as above stated.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

At a meeting of the democratic republicans of Hingham, held at the Armory of the Washington Guards on Saturday evening last, for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the convention at Halifax on the 9th inst., Col. Laban Hersey, Jr. was called to the chair, and Capt. John Kingman appointed Secretary. After the appointment of a delegation, and a committee of correspondence chosen, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That we view with peculiar satisfaction the course which has been pursued by the general government of the United States during the Presidency and Vice Presidency of Andrew Jackson, and Martin Van Buren.

Resolved, That we cheerfully concur in the nomination of the democratic ticket of electors, and will cordially unite our exertions to procure the election of Martin Van Buren, and Richard M. Johnson to the Presidency, and Vice Presidency of the United States.

Resolved, That we approve the nomination of Marcus Morton for Governor, and William Foster for Lieutenant Governor of this Commonwealth the ensuing year, and will use all honorable means to secure their election to those important offices.

Resolved, That we view with indignation a set of resolutions adopted by those (arrogantly calling themselves the delegates of the people) assembled at Worcester on the 14th day of September last which resolutions, we consider disgraceful to the good citizens of this Commonwealth, inasmuch as they show forth a spirit of contempt toward the general government and a vast majority of the people of the United States; and that we view them unworthy of confidence, and leave them at the disposal of those who cherish and support the cause of the late notorious Hartford Convention.

Voted, That the doings of this meeting, signed by the Chairman and Secretary, be published in the Hingham Gazette, and the several democratic papers.

LABAN HERSEY, JR. Chairman.
JOHN KINGMAN, Secretary.

Hingham, Oct. 17th, 1836.

To Drs. Hayward, Hale and Alden:

GENTLEMEN:—The newspapers of Saturday last contained a communication under your signatures, purporting to represent the proceedings of the Council of the Massachusetts Medical Society in relation to certain measures of discipline which were instituted at the last annual meeting. As it is known to the members of the Society and to some persons out of it, that the accusation referred to in the Report was made by me, and of course, that it was my conduct which had occasioned so much "surprise" among the Counsellors; and as the Report, by allusion and inuendo, if not in terms, reflected alike on my good faith and good sense, I have thought best to notice it in as public a manner as its appearance, to state briefly my relations to the subject matter of it, and to comment a little on the remarkable positions taken by the committee.

Nevertheless I should have declined this unpleasant duty, if there had not been appended to the apology for not examining the complaint, a laboured defence of the Society, in which there seems to be deprecated some injury or odium which the connection of the topics would justify a reader in supposing were expected from the conduct of the complainant.

But before proceeding to the few remarks I have to make on the principles of the Report, I shall take leave to protest most strenuously against the publication itself. Such an appeal to the public on a subject not yet considered by the Society, and therefore still "sub judice" is, to say the least of it unusual, and, as I believe, quite unauthorized by any of the powers and prerogatives, ample as they are, with which the Constitution and Bye-laws have invested the Counsellors.

At the last annual meeting of the Society, a youthful and humble member of it was arraigned for gross violations of the Bye-laws; and in conducting his defence, attempted to justify some of his transgressions by the example of older and more distinguished members. This was, of course, no valid excuse or apology, and left him fairly subject to the severest penalties of the constitution, and they were accordingly inflicted. He had, however, distinctly accused several very respectable Fellows by name, of unequivocal and repeated violations of the rule respecting consultations The vote of expulsion which immediately followed his defence, dissolving his connection with the Society, left those accusations (which had been uttered in full meeting and disseminated by the press), without any responsible author, and therefore so far as any action of the Society was concerned, null and void. Having good reason to believe that some of them at least were well founded, and anxious that the Society should both be, and appear to be, consistent and impartial in its dealings with its members, I determined to put the charges in the regular course of investigation. I addressed a letter to the Counsellors, stating that Drs. —— and —— had violated certain bye-laws of the Society and desiring that such proceedings in relation to these should be had, as were for such cases made and provided. Substantially in the same manner a few days before, had a complaint of a similar kind been preferred against the member who had just been expelled.

But how different was the action of the counsellors in the two cases? In one, the accused person is presently summoned before the Board to answer to the complaint, and to show cause why he should not be reported to the Society for expulsion. In the other, a committee of the Board is instructed to open a captious and unnecessary correspondence with the complainant, calling on him to reinforce his word and honor which were pledged on the allegations he made, before any one had questioned them, and finally transferring the case from the Council Board to the newspaper prints, actually reversed the position of the parties, and placed the individual who, under a sense of duty to the Society and his associates, had preferred the charges under consideration, in the unexpected attitude of a defendant before the tribunal of public opinion.

It is the universal practice of all judicial tribunals, whether administering the laws of the land, or the code of honor, to hold every individual within their respective jurisdictions, answerable to any accusation formally preferred against him by a reputable member of the community, enforced by an oath in one case, and by the word of honor in the other. By no other process, indeed, can such investigations be fairly and successfully pursued. The respondent must deny the charges, before the accused is called on to substantiate his allegations by further evidence.

A prima facie case of transgression on the part of certain Fellows was presented to the Council, and the only regular proceeding for them was, to communicate the fact to the parties implicated, and call on them to answer to the charge.

If they had denied the facts alleged in the presentment, the Board should then have called on me for proof. Under these circumstances, I would have done my best to furnish it, and to afford any further assistance in the investigation which was in my power.

But, in truth, if the counsellors had only proceeded by right in their first action in the case, there would have been no necessity of applying to me or elsewhere for evidence. With two exceptions, the allegations related to consultations with irregular practitioners, and most, if not all the gentlemen concerned, as I am well aware, instead of denying the fact, would have admitted it promptly, and and troubled the Council or the Society no further, than to have listened to what they had to say by way of explanation or apology.

How unfounded and ungenerous then, the impressions which the Report is calculated to produce—that the accusations were dismissed for want of proof, and that I had preferred charges against my associates which I was unable or unwilling to substantiate, when the committee and the counsellors might have had the very best possible evidence of the facts in the confessions of the parties themselves, if they had only called on them to respond, as they should have done, if regardless of other guidance, they had only followed their own precedent which was then scarcely a week old.

It is hardly necessary for me to say, that in making the complaint referred to, I was not actuated by any vindictive feelings; all the circumstances of the case negative such a supposition. On the contrary, the most agreeable termination of the affair to me, would have been an honorable acquital of all who were implicated, after a full and impartial investigation. Most of the individuals accused, were, and continue to be, among my most intimate and respected professional friends, and I considered the investigation due to their characters, as well as to the violated laws of the Society. A part of them, I was aware, could offer such explanations of the conduct complained of, as would satisfy their associates that the transgression was excusable, but others, I believed were destitute of any such justification, and rightly deserved the censure of the Society. We had just inflicted the severest penalty of our code upon one of the youngest and least influential members, and while the disciplinary mood was upon us, I was for dealing out the same measure of justice to all others, whether old or young, distinguished or obscure, who had committed similar transgressions. If the counsellors see fit to embarass or stifle all enquiries which touch the aristocracy, theirs be the responsibility; I will not silently bear the burden of it, nor any part of it.

Gentlemen, while I am constrained to regard that portion of your Report which I have noticed above, as defective both in principle and argument, and altogether unworthy of a board composed of intelligent and independent gentlemen, it gives me great pleasure to add, that there is another portion of it, in the sentiments and reasonings of which I fully concur. The respectability and usefulness of the Massachusetts Medical Society are not overrated in your concluding remarks. I have ever felt it to be an honor and privilege to be associated with so many intelligent and accomplished physicians as are to be found in that body. Our regulations and restraints, are equally reasonable and salutary, and as you say, are ever more beneficial to society at large, than to the individuals associated and governed by them. To a fair and impartial application of these regulations and restraints, I shall always hold myself amenable, and believe that I can, in no surer way promote the objects and interests of the Association, than by insisting on an uniform application of them to all its members. Self-respect is the best guarantee and security for the favorable estimation of others, and this can only be maintained in individuals or societies, by a consciousness of justice, consistency and independence in sentiment and action.

I shall not participate in any further agitation of this subject before the public, but shall consider it my duty to present it together with the proceedings of the Counsellors in regard to it, for revision by the Society at the next regular meeting. In the mean time I remain

MARSHAL'S NOTICE

United States of America, Massachusetts District, ss } Boston, Oct. 7, 1836.

PURSUANT to a warrant from the District Court of the United States for the District of Massachusetts, I hereby give notice that a libel is filed before said Court by Parker Fowle and G. Alexander Brewer, both of Boston, in said District, against the schooner Reeside, her tackle, apparel and furniture, whereof A. H. Mayo is master; and that trial will be had on said libel at a District Court to be holden at said Boston, on the twenty-eighth day of October current. All persons interested will take notice, and govern themselves accordingly.

o21 JONAS L. SIBLEY, U. S. Marshal.

PROPOSALS will be received by the Commanding Officer of the Watervliet Arsenal, N. Y. until the 10th day of November, 1836, for supplying the United States Government, by open purchase, with—

1468 barrels Cannon Powder, } Glazed.
176 do Rifle do }
1600 pounds Mealed do
1600 do Pulverized Nitre (fine);
400 do do Sulphur (fine);
400 do do Charcoal (fine)

The whole to be packed in good, sound, dry well seasoned and substantial barrels, well hooped, and in addition to the proper complement of wooden, to be provided with four copper hoops, of suitable dimensions, and to contain one hundred pounds each.

The powder to be manufactured in the best manner, and from the best materials, subject to inspection and proof at the place of manufacture, or sale, by an officer selected by the United States Ordnance Department, in conformity with the following regulations, viz: "The powder shall be free from dust—the grains firm, and when fired in small quantites (say about ten grains) on a copper plate, shall leave no spots or foulness. Each cask shall be tried, ordinarily, with two charges by the established Eprouvette; when the variation in the range exceeds twenty yards, a third charge shall be resorted to, and if the medium range of any one cask be less than two hundred yards, it will be rejected. The medium range of the whole quantity inspected at one time, must be at least two hundred and fifty yards to entitle it to reception for the use of the United States."

The proposals may embrace the whole or a part, not less than one fourth of the whole quantity, and also state the time (which is requested to be at the earliest practical period,) when it can be delivered.

AUCTION SALES.

SALE OF POUGHKEEPSIE LOTS.

JAMES BLEECKER & SONS will sell on TUESDAY the 25th of October inst. at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, on the premises, 200 of the most valuable LOTS ever offered in the flourishing village of Poughkeepsie. These lots are situated in the north part of the village, on the Hudson, commanding an extensive and beautiful view of the river and surrounding country, and affording most delightful situations for the residence of families. No place has improved more rapidly than this portion of Poughkeepsie, and no where can lots be found more certain to advance in value than those here offered.

These lots are situated on Delafield, Davies, Albany, Water, Tallmadge, Hoffman, Whinfield and Spruce sts.

Immediately in front of them is the Poughkeepsie Locomotive Factory, the Poughkeepsie Sash and Blind and Plank Dressing Factory, a Steam Engine Factory, a Manufactory of Britania ware, a large Conch Factory, the Dutchess Whaling Co's Wharf, on which is their spacious Oil Warehouse, Cooperage, Smith's Shop, an extensive Ship Yard, Rigger's Loft and Boat Builder's Shop, and a Lumber Yard.

Immediately adjoining said Lots the Fallkill makes its descent to the Hudson River by a succession of rapid falls, amounting in the whole to rising 120 feet, and furnishing numerous valuable sites for manufactories. Several of these are as yet unoccupied. But there are already on the stream a number of extensive factories, either in actual operation, or about commencing operations. Among these are the Poughkeepsie Silk Factory, Carpet Factory, Paper Hanging Factory, and a large Machine Shop—a Woolen Factory, Hair Seating Factory, Spike Factory, Nail Factory, a large Mill for cutting Dye Woods, a Saw Mill, Grist Mill, and Plaster Mill.

The Poughkeepsie Screw Manufactory is also to be located on the Hudson adjacent to said Lots. It is estimated that by next midsummer these different establishments will be in full operation, and that they will afford steady employment to rising 1300 operatives, at least four-fifths of whom will be men, and that from 300 to 400 additional tenements will be required for their accommodation.

The route designated for the Poughkeepsie and Stockbridge Rail Road, terminates in front of said lots.

The terms will be as accommodating as the lots are inviting—10 per cent on the day of sale, in notes at 90 days. On the 1st of Jan'y next, when the Deeds will be delivered, a further payment of 15 per cent to be made, in notes payable on the 1st of May next. The notes in both cases to be on interest with satisfactory endorsers. The remaining 75 per cent to be secured by mortgage, payable in one, two and 3 years, with interest annually. Every person who will stipulate to erect a dwelling on his lot within 12 months after the sale, may at his option have 90 per cent of the purchase money remain on mortgage for five years, with interest payable annually. 4tis

WANTS NO COLLEGE, NO INSTITUTION, NO MONOPOLY, NO CHARTER—HE BEING QUITE SATISFIED TO REST ON THE PATRONAGE OF THE PUBLIC FOR THE SUCCESS OF HIS GRANDFATHER'S VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL PILLS—ESTABLISHED IN ENGLAND IN 1751.

'Science should contribute to the Comfort, Health and Happiness of Mankind."

ON the 18th of May, 1835, these now truly celebrated Pills were first made known in the United States, although in Europe they had been previously before the public nearly a century. The American public naturally viewed them with suspicion, but as on trial they were found what they professed, it was soon displaced by the greatest confidence. They have secured this character, too, under very adverse circumstances, having to contend with the base slanders promulgated by those interested in keeping mankind in a state of error, as regards the functions of their bodies. Dr Brandreth would here impress on his friends and the public generally, that however different may be the action of the pills at different times, that such different action arises not from any alteration in the pills, but from the state of the body they should always be persevered in, until the action is uniform—for they are an effectual assistant of nature, having the same kind of action on the human body that storms and hurricanes have on the air, or that the tides have upon the ocean—they purify. What so judicious as the copying of nature? We see when she wishes to become purified, that she puts herself in commotion, which has the purifying effect. And so we, to induce purity in our bodies, bring about a natural commotion by artificial means, and the experience has taught those who have adopted this course, and who for this purpose have used these pills, that they were in the right, because the result has been sound health, or in other words, every organ has become restored to a state of purity consistent with its functions—and although there is many whose bodies are in such a state of debility and suffering, that all which can reasonably be expected is temporary relief—yet, nevertheless, many persons who have commenced with them under the most trying circumstances of bodily affliction, when every other means and medicine has proved altogether unavailing, have been restored to health and happiness from their use—and the consequence is, they are now recommended by thousands of persons whom they have cured of Consumption, Influenza, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Pains, and a sense of fulness in the back part of the head, usually the symptoms of Apoplexy, Jaundice, Fever and Ague, Bilious, Scarlet, Typhus, Yellow, and common Fevers of all kinds, Asthma, Gout, Rheumatism, Nervous Diseases, Liver Complaint, Pleurisy, Inward Weakness, Depression of the Spirits, Ruptures, Inflammation, Sore Eyes, Fits, Palsy, Dropsy, Small Pox, Measles, Croup, Coughs, Whooping Cough, Quinsey, Cholic, Cholera Morbus, Gravel, Worms, Dysentery, Deafness, Ringing Noises in the Head, King's Evil, Scrotula, Erysipelas, or St Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, White Swellings, Ulcers, some of 30 years standing, Cancers, Tumors, Swelled Feet and Legs, Piles, Costiveness, all Eruptions of the Skin, Frightful Dreams, Female Complaints of every kind, especially obstructions, relaxations, &c.

8900 testimonials have been received from individuals of the highest respectability. Call at Dr B's store and read the original letters, all proving the extraordinary power of Brandreth's Pills in removing diseases of the most opposite character from the constitution. They in fact prove, by the cures they make, that there is no necessity for any other medicine.

Although Dr B. has enumerated by name the above diseases he is nevertheless of opinion with his grandfather, the celebrated Dr Wm. Brandreth, that there is only ONE DISEASE, an impurity of the blood, which by impeding the circulation, brings on inflammation, and consequent derangement in the organ or part where such impurity of the blood settles—and that it is the different appearances which this inflammation or derangement puts on, that have caused medical men to designate such appearances by various names, but which are in fact only the same disease, with more or less virulence. Dr Wm Brandreth was so fully convinced of the truth of the above simple theory, that he spent 30 years in experiment and laborious research into the medicinal properties of the numerous plants composing the Vegetable Kingdom—his object being to compose a medicine which should at once purify, and produce by specific action, a removal of all bad humors from the blood by the stomach and bowels, as by the continuation of the use of such a medicine, such humors are sure to be carried off, and the blood assumes a state of purity—and whoever takes these pills, and perseveres with them, will be satisfied that Dr Wm. Brandreth fully attained his philanthropic object. It is now an absolute and known fact, that every disease, whether it be in the head or feet, in the brain or meanest member—whether it be an outward ulcer, or an inward abscess, are all, though arising from many causes, reducible to this one grand effect, namely, impurity of blood.

In all cases they will be found a safe and simple remedy, yet all powerful for the removal of disease, whether chronic or recent, infectious or otherwise; and what makes them particularly adapted for this country, is that there is not the slightest liability to cold when taking them—indeed, the system is absolutely less susceptible of cold when under their influence, than at any other time;—therefore, in this climate, they are invaluable. Neither do they require change of diet or care of any kind. In England, these pills have been the only medicine of many families for periods varying from forty to sixty years, and have always proved effectual in restoring health whenever an aberration from it has occurred.

In many cases where the dreadful ravages of ulceration laid bare ligament and bone, and where to all appearance no human means could save life, have patients by the use of these pills, been restored to good health—the devouring disease having been completely eradicated.

In consequence of the pleasantness of their operation, and the dose not generally being required to be more than four or five pills, (merely keeping in view the drain upon the humors) they are fast superseding every other preparation of professed similar import. Cases may occur where it will be very proper to take twenty or even thirty or more pills—this must be considered with reference to highly inflammatory disease, or when great pain is experienced.

As Brandreth's Pills prevent Scurvy, Costiveness, and its consequences, seafaring men, and all travellers to foreign regions, should not be without them, in order to resort to on every occasion of illness.

N. B. Time or climate affects them not.

Southern gentlemen will find this medicine one which will ensure health to the people on their estates.

CANCERS—Several cases of cure can be referred to—the cure is certain, if perseverance in the medicine is used.

CONSUMPTION—Reference can be made to numbers who have been cured in New York and Brooklyn of this disease.

PHELPS' ARCANUM.—This Syrup is celebrated for the Cure of Scrofula, Eruptions or Disease of the skin, Syphilis or Venereal Complaints, Rheumatism Ulcers in the Throat and other parts of the Body, Mercuria Affections, Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Blood, Deep seated pains in the Muscles, Bones, &c. and a regenerator o emaciated and broken Constitutions, caused by disease, intemperance, &c.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Having been made acquainted with the medical qualities and witnessed the effects of "Dr Phelps' Arcanum," I feel much confidence in saying it is a preparation of medicine greatly superior to any thing of the kind, in curing those chronic diseases for which it is intended, and recommend it to invalids in preference to any other article whatever.

SAMUEL L. MITCHELL, M. D.

New York, March 25, 1830.

My knowledge of the properties and operation of the "Arcanum of Dr Phelps," justify me in saying that it is far superior o any depurative syrup with which I am acquainted. In the most obstinate and ambiguous deseases, it displays effects peculiarly surprising. In those affections that resist the skill of the physician, such as Rheumatism, Syphilis, Scrofula, Ulcerations, and Diseases of the Skin, &c., I would recommend it as worthy of great confidence. JOHN D. GODMAN, M. D.

Philadelphia. Nov. 27, 1829.

For the last few years I have suffered excessively by a Bilious Mercurial Disease, which has rendered me frequently unfit for duty, and confined me as often to my berth. My diease was the sequela of bad treatment, while in the more tropical latitudes, and laboring under an acute inflamation of the liver, and other Billiary organs. Prior and pubsequently to our arrival in this port, I have had recourse to a great variety of prescriptions, medicines and nostrums—among which, were a number of bottles of Swaim's Panacea, Potter's Catholicon, the Rob of Laffecteur, &c., but without any benefit.—Dr Phelps being at that time a student of medicine in the University of Pennsylvania, advised me to make use of a newly discovered medicine, the Arcanum, which he believed would succeed in relieving me, in consequence of the very signal effects himself and others had observed in its operation in various glandular diseases, that were otherwise considered incurable. I commenced its use accordingly, and it affords me pleasure to state, that for several months past, not a vestige of the original or secondary disease has been discoverable. I prize the medicine above all others with which I have ever been acquainted. It is both pleasant and I believe certain it its effects, as a remidy in a variety of chronic diseases, incident to tropical and other climates. J. ANDREWS, Purser of the Columbian Brig Pinchinca. Philadelphia, Jan. 5, 1835

SAVANNAH, 6th March. 1831.

GENT.—I cannot refrain from expressing my gratitude to you n offering me a bottle of Dr PHELPS' ARCANUM, as an experi ment in my case of Rheumatism. I have been dreadfully afflicted for upwards of twelve months, and for the last four or five months have scarcely been able to walk. I have used a dozen bottles of Swaim's Panacea, and found very little benefit from it. After taking the bottle of Arcanum, I found such a change in my whole system, that I was induced to try another, and to my surprise, the pains in my legs all disappeared, and the Ulcers in one have completely healed up, and I can walk nearly as well as ever. I shall continue to take two bottles more, and firmly believe it will make a complete cure of my disease. I remain, gentlemen, yours very respectfully,

JNO. MORRALL

Messrs Lay & Hendrickson, Druggists, Savannah, (Geo.)

Extract of a letter from Dr Jones, a highly respectable physician, dated Baton Rogue, Louisiana, Dec. 28, 1833.—The Arcanum had two powerful competitors, Swaim's Panacea, and Potter's Catholicon, which have been for years in circulation in this place. As far as I have had an opportunity of ascertaining its virtues, I believe the Arcanum to be superior to any article of the kind, yet offered to the public. I prescribed it in a case of Irritable Ulcer of three years standing, situated on the Malleolus Extrenus—the individual thus afflicted was much emaciated and debilitated,—after one week's attendance, I put him upon the Arcanum, following the directions three bottles nearly effected a cure of the ulcer and bodily health.

I prescribed it in several Mercurial and Syphilitic Affections, where it proved salutary. I am at this time trying the Arcanum on an individual, who has been laboring under Ulcerous affections of one of his legs, for fifteen years,—he has taken 1 bottle only, and it has produced that effect, he is sanguine in the belief, it will effect a permanent cure.

INDIGESTION, JAUNDICE AND BILIOUS COMPLAINTS. ANDERSON'S VEGETABLE ELIXIR, for Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Jaundice and Bilious Complaints, weakness of the Stomach and Bowels, and consequent loss of appetite; nervous complaints, headach, sour stomach, flatulence and habitual costiveness.

This medicine is composed entirely of vegetable substances is perfectly safe in its operation, and may be given to children or persons of the most delicate habit, without the least risk of inconvenience.

The uniform success which has attended the use of it where it has been extensively used, in Boston and various other parts of the United States, and in the West Indies, attested by disinterested and highly respectable persons, affords, next to a trial of the medicine itself, the best commentary upon its virtues and the best recommendation which can be offered to those who are unacquainted with it.

Extract of a letter received from a gentleman in Boston, who had suffered severely from indigestion for three years. 'During this time, I suffered very much from mental depression, con stant pain in the head and breast, and side, sharp shooting pain over almost the whole system—the food that I ate seemed to pass into my lungs and there remain, giving me great pain as tended with a strong degree of heat. At times, I suffered so much from the pain of indigestion as to be confined to the bed for two or three days. During one of these most severe attacks I was induced by the advice of a friend to try your Vegetable Medicine. In the course of a few weeks I found myself much better, and by the time I had taken two bottles, considered myself wholly free from the complaint. I continue, on the least feeling of any thing like indigestion or pressure on the stomach, to take about a table spoonful of it, which, in the course of a few hours completely restores me. It has had with me a very wonderful effect, in strengthening the stomach and invigorating the whole system, and judging by my own case, I consider it in all diseases connected with the digestive organs, to be a very valuable medicine.

It has been found singularly efficacious in cases of the most obstinate headache.

It is put up in large bottles containing a pound and a half and sold at seventy-five cents each, by Jonathan P. Hall, Jr. No. 1, Union street, John P. Whitwell, Milk street, John I. Brown, near Boylston Market, Erastus S. Holden, near the Western Avenue, Richard A. Newell, Summer street, Boston, Samuel Kidder & Co. Charlestown, E. G. Lemon, Roxbury.

BRITISH COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LONDON.

IT has become a duty to acquaint the public that the genuine Improved Hygeian Vegetable Pills which are prescribed in accordance with the doctrines of the British College of Physicians and Surgeons, London, and which are recommended by the writings and practice of Sir Astley Cooper, Mr Abernethy, and the most eminent Physicians and Practitioners of Europe and America, are signed on the outer cover of every package, in the following lawful and particular manner:

JOSEPH RALPH, M. D.—GRADUATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF EDINBURGH;—MEMBER OF THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS, LONDON;—LECTURER ON MIDWIFERY AND THE DISEASES OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN;—AND AUTHOR OF THE "FAMILY PHYSICIAN, A DOMESTIC GUIDE TO MEDICINE."

(Note. The various documents, Diplomas and stamped Certificates, which show the connection of the Author with the Institutions above mentioned are publicly exhibited at the General Office, Cortland street, N. Y. and may be seen by any individual at any time.)

Nothing seems to have afforded more general satisfaction and advantage to society, than having the Hygeian Medicine prescribed and prepared by a regular and practical physician, and one who may at all times be consulted or appealed to, either by post or otherwise, on the subject of its operation and disease. This also is the more appreciated in consequence of the number of different medicines which are daily advertised under various pretences in the name of "Hygeian" and "original Hygeian."

The directions which accompany every package of this Domestic Medicine, are exceedingly plain and particular,—the proper dose and management of the Pills being carefully given under the head of each disorder separately. Those who keep this medicine by them, especially country families, find that nothing is more economical or better adapted for family use, and being free from mercury or any hurtful property, they may always be resorted to with perfect safety. Neither is it too much to state with strict regard to truth, that thousands are indebted to this medicine for the preservation of life and health.

The connection which exists between the organs of digestion and almost all deseases, being the basis of this Domestic Medicine, there is scarcely a disorder incident to human nature in which they are not taken advantageously, but those disorders in which the most remarkable instances of benefit and cures have been experienced are the following:—Bilious disorders, Dyspepsia, affections of the head and nervous complaints, with all those various disorders which originate in hot climates or from costive bowels. Also, Fevers, Inflammation, Gout, Rheumatism, Cutaneous Diseases, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Scrophula, Coughs which threaten Consumption, and especially Gravel, Gleet, and other weaknesses in the Urinary and Geintal organs.

This Medicine also, in a peculiar manner, is adapted to the disorders of the female constitution, both in early and more advanced periods of life.

ADAMS'S PATENT

SWELLED BEAM

THE subscriber has on hand a good assortment of the Swelled Beam Windlass Bedsteads, which, for comfort and convenience is undoubtedly the best article yet invented; its chief peculiarity is that of the Swelled Beam, the effect of which is to produce a crowning, and elastic sacking, and effectually provides against its saging. They are easily set up or taken down, and may be saved in case of fire as easily as any other piece of furniture, and from its mode of construction less liable to harbor insects than any other kind; but above all its advantages is the ease and comfort obtained from the sacking, by being made and kept elastic by means of the Swelled Beam, (the form of which is exhibited in the above cut.)

Orders thankfully received, and promptly attended to
